

Introduction

Fedelta is a financial services company that provides a full range of accounting services. Any Isle of Man business that requires these services should consider speaking with one of our qualified accountants so that they can benefit from our experience, location and professionalism. Our services include, but are not limited to, the preparation of financial statements, VAT and tax returns.

If you are a sole trader, start-up, small or medium sized business, we can take away the administrative tasks of day-to-day bookkeeping and the worries regarding the preparation of financial statements and submission of tax returns.

At Fedelta we have successfully managed, operated and administered many businesses both locally and internationally for nearly 30 years, so you can utilise these many years of experience including our in-house tax expertise.

We will not charge for an initial meeting with one of our qualified accountants. We will listen to your requirements and provide you with guidance, and if needed, a brief proposal on the services we can offer you, so that you can concentrate on building your business.

Accounting services can sometimes prove to be expensive but you will find our fees to be very competitive whilst maintaining a high standard of professionalism. Here at Fedelta, we understand that the financial burden of these essential services can be prohibitive for small businesses so we will work together with you to ensure these costs are kept to a minimum.

Fedelta's core business is the provision of trust, corporate, fund and pension administration, so we can draw upon our vast experience and knowledge within the firm.

Our business is privately owned by the board of directors so we are incentivised to provide an excellent service.

One, more or all of the following services are at your disposal:

- Preparation of Financial Statements
